Presbyterian Assembly Discusses Great Problem.

Ministers Urged to Enforce Church Standards.

Public's Condemnation of Corey's Act Good.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

COLUMBUS (O.) May 22.—The Presbyterian General Assembly today received and adopted the report of the Special Committee on Marriage and Divorce and adopted resolutions regarding marriage and divorce and enjoining the church to hold to a strict account all ministers under their care and to urge all ministers to regard the "unity that should be maintained in giving the sanction of our church to members of another church, whose marriage is in violation of the laws of the church whose communion they have chosen."

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Dickey of Philadelphia, chairman of the committee who presented the report, referring to the recent marriage of President Corey of the United States Steel Corporation, said:

"What we heard about Corey cleared the way. The condemnation of public opinion was enough to make us rejoice, and surely if the editorials of our newspapers are indeed public opinion is rising to a high standard and it is time that we take the lead in this as in everything and give an example of the church cleansing itself from lax divorces and sinful marriages."

The report of the board of church extension was also received and adopted. Although it was rumored that an attempt would be made to bring about a reconsideration of the action of the assembly on the temperance question, especially with reference to the resolution commending the anti-alcohol league as a "safe, sane and effective organization," no step was taken in this direction.

It is said that Kansas City will be selected for the next meeting, although Denver, St. Louis, Hot Springs and Atlantic City are also in the running. The important matter presented today was the report on divorce.

Dr. Matthews, general secretary of the Presbyterian Alliance, who for thirty years has been traveling over the world in an effort to bring the various sects together, not in organic but in church fellowship, was one of the principal speakers of the day.

SEPARATION REALLY AID.

Speaking of the situation in France, Dr. Matthews declared that the Catholic church in that country will become stronger because of the separation of the church and state and that the people now realize it.

The report on the Special Committee on Marriage and Divorce contains the following:

"The church cannot hope to influence those who make and execute civil laws, to give protection to the family, the sundering of the marriage ties and the forming of new alliances more difficult, unless by a strict adherence to its own teachings. The church holds those who minister by its authority responsible for the violation of its teachings."

"The church has it in its power to put such approval upon divorces or remarriages that have not the sanction of God's word that those who dread its condemnation and desire its recognition will hesitate to contract themselves."

"But if the church permits its seal to be put upon such sinful alliances, if it allows its silence to seem its approval, if it withholds its power to condemn, in deference to a power to contribute, it need not think it strange that its influence for reform is so little regarded."

One of the important features of today's session was the election of the new judicial commission which is to be a permanent body. Among the members are:

To serve three years—Rev. Dr. John W. Dickinson, San Jose, Cal.; Rev. Dr. James K. Thompson, Muskogee, Okla.; Rev. Dr. C. W. Hayes, Portland, Ore.

With reference to a committee of the Southern Presbyterian church that missionaries of the Presbyterian assembly were interfering with the missionaries of the Southern church in work in Indian Territory, the committee on Home Missions reported that the testimony in the committee was so conflicting that no action was advisable, but admonished the missionaries of the Presbyterian church to conduct their work as to avoid any conflict in the future. The report of the committee was accepted.

DENVER (Colo.) May 22.—Appointments of standing committees of the United Presbyterian General Assembly were announced at the morning session by Rev. Dr. W. L. Campbell of Monmouth, Ill., who was yesterday unanimously elected moderator for the ensuing year.

Dr. Wallace was present at the organization of the United Presbyterian churches in 1858 and has held his present office in the assembly forty-one years.

The report of the second clerk shows that the church now has 150 ministers, 104 congregations, 10,724 members and 35,321 members of young people's societies in this country.

Lieut.-Col. Ayres Meets "Conspiracy of Silence" Among Troop Commanders With Wholesale Complaints of Insubordination—Trouble Began in the Philippine Islands.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A scandal has developed in the Eighth Cavalry, and five of the eight captains of the regiment were returned to the United States under arrest with a charge of mutiny.

They were placed under arrest by direction of Lieut.-Col. Ayres, and are now confined at Fort Robinson and Nebraska, awaiting action by the War Department.

Capt. McNally of the Eighth Cavalry was tried in the Philippines, and some action was taken against the other four officers, but they will be taken before a court-martial in this country.

According to unofficial information received at the War Department, the trouble occurred in one of the provinces in the Department of Luzon, but all the details of the difficulty are not known, as the papers in the case have not yet reached Washington.

Unofficial advice received by the Secretary of War is to the effect that Capt. McNally was charged with insubordination, which resulted in a big row in the regiment. The other four officers were charged with the same offense, and it is charged, entered into a conspiracy of silence.

They declined to divulge the facts regarding the experiences the men now under charges, and Lieut.-Col. Ayres ordered them placed under arrest.

Col. Ayres has been transferred to the Fourteenth Cavalry, and is now stationed at Fort Wain, Wash.

Foraker Cross-examines Texas Official About Brownsville Shooting Affray.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Mayor Frederick J. Combe, of Brownsville, Tex., was the only witness today before the Senate Committee on military affairs in the investigation of the shooting affray of August 13 last, which resulted in the discharge of the negro soldiers concerned at Fort Brown.

After telling of an incident connected with the affray and subsequent events in which he figured, the Mayor was examined by Senator Foraker.

The Senator was particularly interested in a report that citizens of Brownsville had raised $10,000 to be used as a reward for information leading to a discovery of the persons who did the shooting.

He was asked in that report, "It was stated by an Ohio man." The cross-examination will be continuing tomorrow.

MRS. EDDY'S TRUSTEES BEGIN THEIR FIGHT.

Motion That They Be Substituted For "Next Friends" Argued by Counsel—Competency of Leader Not Considered, so Far.

CONCORD (N. H.) May 22.—Following several skirmishes, the first legal battle fought about the estate of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, leader of the Christian Science denomination in connection with the suit in equity seeking an accounting of her property, was opened at the Merrimack County Superior Court here today.

The original suit brought by Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover, of Lead, N. H., his daughter, Mrs. Baker Glover, and George W. Baker of Bangor, Me., nephew of Mrs. Eddy, was brought in the name of the Christian Science leader by her three relatives acting as "next friends," and was directed against Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Eddy's secretary, and several other leaders of the church.

It asked for an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property, which the "next friends" alleged was being misapplied by the defendants. Three trustees, Henry A. Baker, Archibald McClellan and Josiah E. Fernald, were appointed by Mrs. Eddy and empowered by a trust deed, executed by her to manage her property.

The trustees then petitioned the court to be substituted for the "next friends" as plaintiffs in the suit to secure an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property. Following this the original plaintiffs petitioned the court to include the trustees as defendants in the original suit.

Today's hearing was upon the motion of the trustees that they be substituted for the "next friends," in the suit against Frye and other defendants.

Nearly all of the defendants were in court when the hearing opened, although Frye did not appear. Among the prominent spectators was Judge William Ewing of Chicago, one of the most prominent members of the Christian Science organization.

Gen. Frank S. Streeter of this city, chief counsel for the defendants, occupied the floor throughout today's proceedings. His argument was devoted principally to the contention that in order to prevent the trustees being substituted for "next friends," as plaintiffs in the original suit, the "next friends" must prove Mrs. Eddy's incompetency to execute the trust deed giving her trustees power to act for her. Gen. Streeter claimed that it was the legal right of the trustees to prosecute the suit against the defendants.

He submitted the trust deed to the court and asserted that it was valid. If the deed were valid, he said, not only all of Mrs. Eddy's property had been transferred, but the right to prosecute the suits had passed to the trustees and they asked to be allowed to carry it on. If Mrs. Eddy's incompetency to acknowledge the trust deed was regarded as material, then the question of competency must be decided first.

Judge Chamberlain announced at the outset of the hearings that the proceedings should be confined strictly to the question of the competency of the trustees as plaintiffs. He said he would not consider Mrs. Eddy's competency at this time. The hearing will be resumed tomorrow.

Admits That He Had Visited Disgraced Inspector and That "Big Bill" Hawley Had Discussed Bigamy Accusation Against Millionaire's Wife. Promised Pardon and a Fortune.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES)

NEW YORK, May 22.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Bill" McLaughlin, disgraced inspector of police and acknowledged head and front of "the system" in the police department, has quit under the fire of the investigators aimed at him since May 18, when it was discovered that the detective bureau had been used by Howard Gould.

McLaughlin ran up the white flag today when Dr. Martin E. McGovern, the police surgeon, reported to Commissioner Bingham that the man is a victim of chronic bronchitis. That report was McLaughlin's application for retirement.

Dr. McGovern tomorrow will apply for the appointment of a board of surgeons to examine McLaughlin, and if they confirm the report of his illness Commissioner Bingham must order his retirement.

The quitting of McLaughlin was but one of the incidents in the Gould case. Under threat of having a policeman visit his office with a subpoena, Delaney Nicol went to Police Headquarters and unfolded a phase of the relations he had with the police against the principal counsel of Howard Gould, and practically abandoned McLaughlin to his fate.

Although Nicol said on Sunday that he never saw "Big Bill" Hawley and that Howard Gould had never told him that Gould was a bigamist, he said that Hawley had been in his office three or four times during the last few months, and that he had heard from the lips of Nicol that Hawley was a bigamist.

Hawley has told the investigators that six years ago, while he was in Danvers prison, an agent of Gould was after him constantly to sign a statement concerning Mrs. Howard Gould. They have corroborated this.

The price Hawley was to receive was $100,000, and a pardon, through the influence he was said to have had with President Roosevelt, then Vice-President.

BOISE (Idaho) May 22.—The trial of the tenth day of the Haywood case, the partial verdict of the jury, and the examination of the new witnesses, were the features of the day.

The examination of the new witnesses did not proceed very far, as the reaction of the jury to the testimony of the new witnesses was such that the examination of the new witnesses was discontinued.

The jury, after deliberating for some time, returned a verdict of guilty on the charge of conspiracy to commit murder, and a verdict of not guilty on the charge of murder.

Takenmen Getting Wise as to Most Artistic and Efficient Methods of Abolishing the Jury Box—Judge
Wood Draws Sharp Line On Ex-

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.J.
DENVER (Idaho) May 23.—The net result of this, the tenth day of the Haywood trial, were the partial weeding out of the takers of the second panel were entitled to statutory exemption, and the partial qualification of one juror.

The examination of the new venire has not proceeded very far, but it shows that the reaction of interest in the Haywood murder and the results of the facts established and disputed by the natural process, dis-satisfying many citizens for jury service in the case and indicates that the publicity given to the examination of the venire has widely increased popular knowledge as to the means of arbitrarily avoiding jury service in the case.

The sixty men of the second special panel presented themselves at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the judge announced that the court would use names, twenty-three of the sixty were granted, and the other thirty were not. The judge said that he would accept only those excuses which came within the statute, and when he made good his announcement, the hand of petitioners melted very quickly. Five petitioners were granted, nine were temporarily excused, and the other twenty-three petitioners did not bother to present their excuses.

On the attempt to fill seat
No. 1 made vacant by the release of Clarence Cole on account of illness, the first five takers had opinions that would require evidence to prove. One of them said his opinion was that he was not qualified to serve and they all went down on challenges from the State.

Only in the examination Clarence Cole for the defense asserted that he was not qualified to serve. The judge overruled his objection, and the court continued to address the venue. But the court checked the most row and the examination ended.

As the clerk successively drew the names of four takers whose petitions for excuse had just been temporarily denied, in order to give them time to get certificates from physicians as to the illness of themselves or their wives, and it was agreed that they should all be passed until the case finally decided on their applications.

The tenth and last taker named Henry Curtis, a farmer, and he was every indication of qualifying.
The judge led him over a long question, which showed him to be from opinion or bias and to be impartial. Just at the moment when he was about to be sworn, he said he was not qualified to serve and he went to the witness stand.

That amounts to roughly one-third of the venire was exhausted this morning, and some of the men who will not all the one certain line or two prospective vacancies jury. After a taker named William J. Long, a graduate of the law, and the seventh taker, which will be the thirteenth
of the venire allowed.

The takers and spectators room was filled this afternoon in the new room where the case is being tried. Many were seen who continue to arrive on the date of the taking of testimony. Mrs. Haywood was seen at the witness stand this afternoon.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.
MAY 23.—The Herald obtained an interview with William J. Long, a well-known author of Stamford, Ct., is quoted today as having declared that the President is a "killer" of animals and not a naturalist.

Mr. Long defends himself against the specific charge of falsity to nature by the President and does not spare biting terms in criticizing.
The President in an article in a June magazine was quoted in a general attack upon writers of animal stories who put forth as facts what are no more than interesting fictions with animals as principals.

"William J. Long is perhaps the worst of these nature-writing offenders," the President says. "It is his stories I am told, that have been put in part, into many of the public schools of the country. In order that the children may get the truths of wild animal life."

Rev. Dr. Long is a retired Congregational clergyman, a graduate of Harvard, Heidelberg and Andover, and the author of "Ways of Wood Folk,"
"Beasts of the Field," and other similar works.

EXPECT MOTOR MEET AND RUN.
Lakewood Track Association Proposes Events.

Ready to Finance Project if Los Angeles Helps.

End of June Is Suggested as Probable Date.

THE DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES: MAY 23.—[Exclusive] Prospects are excellent for the Lakewood track meet at the two-mile track of the Lakewood Inn Track Association, June 28 and 29, and an immense run of automobiles between Los Angeles and Lakewood, June 28, and a night race between the two cities, June 29. The meet, which has been the subject of much discussion, was announced by J. H. Gay, secretary of the track association, who has been the driving force in the project. Although the final arrangements have not been made, I am confident that the meet will be held, and you may be assured that it will be the greatest gathering of its kind ever seen in the Coast. Our association is anxious to see the meet, and is willing to pay every dollar of the expense, including purchasing trophies and getting the cars. The only reservation being made is the Los Angeles automobile men, who are full of charge, looking out for the general arrangements of the meet. I returned from Los Angeles today, and while there I discussed the proposition with the officers of the Los Angeles Automobile Association. I can say that the proposition is good for bringing about the meet, and J. H. Gay, president of the association, will go to Los Angeles within three days, when I presume the arrangements will be decided. The association is willing to do anything in reason for insuring the success of the gathering, but we do want the Los Angeles automobile interests to charge, and it is a case of them or the principal work, and we put up the cash. This would seem to be the best of condition. I remember at our meet a few weeks ago, when we had a mile and a half race, and after the race was a little older and had been more than a year, and we had a record by at least five seconds. We shall plan down rough making the course as smooth as a house floor. We want this money to have a national reputation, and if money is not forthcoming, we will secure it. We will win out, and whether Oldfield and Seibel are here, I cannot say. This and other matters of arrangements will be discussed with the Los Angeles automobile men. Personally, I believe we could offer features which would be as good as drawing cards. Take, for instance, the race we had recently between A. B. Daniels and James J. McLaughlin, who made fifty miles in 20.24. It was one of the great races of the meet. Then there was the race between our student, Ed. Los Angeles automobilists would be able to arrange some race which would be worth going far to see. The automobile men of the Coast—the more the merrier, as I can learn, everybody is interested with our entertainment. I will try to record this time. I have decided to offer trophies for everything. Everything connected with the gathering has been cleared up, and we are anxious for the next.

FRIDAY—MAY 24th
OPPORTUNITY DAY

Friday Marks the Climax of Value Giving
Not how cheap, but how good—is our motto. Merchandise to be actually cheap must be actually good. After the quality is determined, then the question with us is: How low can it be sold? And, though we claim our prices to be the lowest in town on reputable merchandise, Friday marks the climax of value giving, inasmuch as we set this day aside for the disposal of remnants, broken assortments and odd lots. No matter how low the prices have been before, they are crowded down still lower for the final disposal on Opportunity Day. This week's offerings are among the strongest that we have given publicity—and we believe that every thrifty and economical woman within the reach of this newspaper will be drawn toward Bullock's on Friday. Remember, that not all the good things are given newspaper publicity, as the shortest lots are marked at lowest prices and rarely advertised.

THE CURRIER BUILDG., 212 W. Third St., Los Angeles, Cal., is the place where the fencing business is being run. Following the lead of the individual supremacists practiced by the most noted financiers of the American college, nearly every student knows something of the use of the foil and some are master hands at it. On this side of the Atlantic it is not unusual to find a student prominent socially and noted fencer, latent an impetus to fencing in Southern California that may last for some time.

Bloodhounds Again on Scent

Large Reward Calls Many

Southern Pacific detectives, deputies from the sheriff's office, the police, and hundreds of youths are engaged in a man hunt at such a feverish pace that it is difficult to see how the man who was shot in this section. They are on the trail of the fiend or fiends who wrecked

the Shore Line Limited of the Southern Pacific at West Glendale early

Wednesday morning. The $10,000 reward has brought many private detectives into the chase.

Bloodhounds were again unleashed yesterday and the ten men who deliberately pulled the rail from the track were taken up. At the point on the county road where the footprints of the villain were found, John Doherty hounds took the scent, then more than twenty-four hours old. The dogs bayed loudly, hesitated for a moment, and then shot away in the direction of Los Angeles. The scene was just after traveling a comparatively short distance.

That the man who held the wire which displaced the rail came straight to Los Angeles after the wreck is the theory detectives and others are working upon. The scene was just after

PUTTING OUT A FIRE.

One Man Used Water by Glassful and

Another An Extinguisher Which Went Stop.

The deliberate attempt of a man in the Los Angeles Trust building, Second and Spring streets, to put out a fire with the aid of water by the glass amused a great crowd of people which gathered in Second street

at noon yesterday.

It was one of the awnings on the building which caught fire, probably from some deadly cigarette. In the room above a man suddenly appeared at the window and calmly emptied glass of water on the blazing awning.

The crowd which stopped on the way to lunch checked the man who fought with this novel apparatus quietly proceeded to fetch other glasses of water and throw on the flames.

Suddenly a head popped out of the window under the awning and then popped back again in a hurry; he had looked up at the remnants of the awning just in time to get the benefit of a glass of water. A moment later he reappeared with a fire-extinguisher, one of those kind which squirt

some chemical.

By this time the fire had nearly burned itself out, but the crowd stayed to see the man who had taken the extinguisher from the man below take the window of the man above. But the latter was foxy and did not stick his head out far enough to get the full force of the squirt. He just continued to empty water out of a glass on the man below.

But the latter was a hero, and stuck to his post as long as a bit of smoke

It was the body of Richard Gaud,

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The city's Health Department shows that the general health of Los Angeles is remarkably good, and there are few cases of contagious diseases. Important recommendations decided upon yesterday by the Board of Public Works include the paving of Grand avenue, from Pico to Jefferson, and the providing of an ornamental lighting system for Pico street, from Main to Vermont avenue.

The Northwestern Improvement Association yesterday filed with the City Clerk a protest over delays in street improvement projects, some of which it is claimed have been held up for five years.

The Board of Public Works yesterday decided to proceed with the opening and widening of Sixteenth street on the original plan, and to deny the petition of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company that the street be made 100 feet in width.

Suits in which infringement of patent are alleged, have been filed against the various companies and persons interested in dredging the canals at Naples. Other litigation is likely to follow which may interfere with the sale of lots at that place until the question is finally settled.

In the midst of the trial of William J. McKinley, yesterday, on a charge of assault to kill, an automobile was performed on the aged victim of the alleged assault, disclosing a flattened bulge lodged against his skull.

Habes Corpus proceedings yesterday resulted in the release of Henry Holtzman, who had been convicted in the justice's court at Imperial of selling liquor illegally. It was shown that the case had been tried in the absence of the defendant.

Dan Shea, a Harvard man, told a pitiful story in the Police Court yesterday of how he had been ruined by Angel Park gambling and had taken a friend's suit case and pawned it.

Friends of Miss Grace Derivage, the young stenographer who has confessed that she committed forgery, have begun a strenuous effort to secure her release on probation and the probability is that they will succeed. Those whom the young woman victimized have shown no disposition to further punish her.

AT THE CITY HALL.
CITY'S HEALTH IS EXCELLENT.
REPORTS SHOW FEW CASES OF CONTAGIOUS DISEASE.

Month of May Makes New Record for Health Office—Public Works Board Decided Upon Important Recommendations, Including Paving of Grand Avenue.

A remarkably clean bill of health is that which is given Los Angeles just now by the health department. The month of May is bringing forth a record far below the average for contagious diseases.

So far this month there have been reported to the health office only sixteen cases of diphtheria, and not one of these has resulted fatally. Only eight cases of typhoid fever have been reported, and there have been but fifteen reported cases of scarlet fever. Out of a population of 280,000 this is considered a remarkable showing.

There is not a single case of smallpox in the city. About the first of May there was a scare over the possibility of an epidemic of spinal meningitis, as there were several fatal cases; but the physicians of the city became especially alert, and every precaution possible was taken; pupils of public schools were inspected, and the disease was wiped, so that all prospect of an outbreak has subsided.

Since the Board of Health has accepted the detention hospital group of buildings in the Chavez Ravine, it is planning to fit up the place so that it may be used should occasion arise. The chain gang is employed at present in shaping up the grounds and putting the roadways in usable condition. Since the warmer weather has set in there has been a considerable exodus of tubercular patients to the foothills and mountains, where many will resort to camp life.

DELAYED FIVE YEARS.
A HURRY-UP CALL.
Now comes the Northwestern Improvement Association with a hurry-up call for street improvements, which, it alleges, have been delayed for five years for from two to five years. This association has filed with the City Clerk a petition addressed to the City Council, the Board of Public Works and the City Engineer, in which it calls attention to this condition regarding northwestern improvement projects, and says:

"We have, as individuals, been pressing these improvements for several years, and have met with indifferent success. These improvements, viz, the grading of Mainville avenue, De Freese street, Childs avenue, Hyperion avenue and Lucille street are matters of vital importance to this section of the city, and we urge that immediate action be taken."

This association has also filed a petition to the Board of Public Works, asking that the contracts for the improvement of Childs avenue, the opening of Edgely Drive, and the improvement of Lucille avenue from Sunset boulevard to Childs avenue, be awarded at the same time to the same contractor. There is a cut to be made on Childs avenue and on Lucille avenue, so that the work can be carried on to advantage at the same time.

Applications Denied.
Yesterday was a day for denial by the Fire Commission. Large delegations of property owners attended the board session to make verbal protests and there were several lively scenes. J. D. McNeil wanted a permit to operate a blacksmith shop at 125 Central avenue, but the women were against it. One frail woman, who owns a lodging-house across the street from the proposed smithy declared she would rather see a whole lot of snakes go up in the black than to see that shop open. Others protested that they already had about all the noise-makers in the block that they could stand. A largely signed written protest backed the verbal appeals, and McNeil was turned down.

The application of William H. Martin for a hay, grain and fuel yard at No. 1627 Central avenue, was also denied. The permit of the Paris Auto Station at No. 1066 South Los Angeles street was revoked, the fire chief reporting that the concern was not complying with the city ordinances.

Widening Sixteenth Street.
Proceedings are under way for the opening and widening of Sixteenth street, from Pacific avenue, westerly to the city limits to a width of 80 feet, and the widening of the street easterly from Pacific avenue to Main street to a width of 75 feet. Yesterday the Board of Public Works denied the petition of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway Company, praying for a change of plans so as to make Sixteenth street a uniform width of 100 feet westerly from Pacific avenue. A largely signed petition presented by the property owners of the district, asking the board to follow the original plans for widening the street, and the widening of the street to 100 feet would mean an indefinite delay in securing rights way, in the board's view, it was best to follow the original plans, although it favors wide streets wherever possible.

Everett Place Improvement.
A petition has been filed asking for the improvement of Everett Place in Angeles Heights, under the bond provisions of the Vrooman Act. Property owners have petitioned the City Council for the privilege of improving by private contract an alley running between, Boyle avenue and State street, from Fourth to Fifth streets.

New License Numbers.
Beginning with the first of June new license numbers will be carried by the various vehicles which require city license. The City Clerk's office has received a number of mail boxes containing numbers from an eastern manufacturing concern, so that henceforth there will be no confusion in the numbers. Each class of vehicle is designated by a distinct color, and will carry a serial number from these figures, in $12.45. For years the vehicle license signs were made by the Dromgold sign works, but when R. W. Dromgold was elected a Councilman this bit of patronage had to be topped off. It was considered a good time to overhaul the general system of license numbering, and the figures had reached an amount that was becoming cumbersome, hence the new tags to be issued June 1.

Week's Fire Alarms.
Chief Lips' report to the Fire Commission, yesterday, showed that within the past week there were twenty-four fire alarms, six of which were for grass fires. The estimated loss from these fires is $12,445. The principal fire was that of the Mathews' paint concern on South Los Angeles street. In acknowledgment of the good services of the department, P. H. Mathews yesterday sent to the Fire Commission a check for $100 to be placed in the firemen's fund.

Schwamm Boats Band Issue.
When the weekly report of the Fire Chief was made to the Fire Commission, yesterday, Commissioner Schwamm got in a boost for the Owens River boat band. This report is simply another argument in favor of getting the Owens River down here as speedily as possible, said Schwamm. "The serious fires of the past week simply show that we must get more water, and that our fire department, no matter how well equipped, or how efficient its men, is not able to cope with a big fire because of lack of water. It is of vital importance that we get that water supply just as soon as possible."

Permits Granted.
A. L. Liko was given a permit by the Fire Commission, yesterday, to operate a blacksmith shop at No. 74 South San Pedro street. A permit to install a heating plant was given to M. A. Dolan for a five-story block at No. 125 West Ninth street.

More Firemen Wanted.
Fire Chief Lips yesterday asked the Fire Commission to provide for the opening of the two new engine houses, Nos. 20 and 21, which will be completed in July, by furnishing the fire department with two second-class captains, two lieutenants, two second-class engineers, four drivers and twelve firemen.

Thanks for Fiesta Favors.
A vote of thanks was given by the Fire Commission yesterday to the members of the fire department for their creditable display in the Fiesta parade, and the deep interest evinced in this affair by the men, also to the citizens who contributed money and flowers for the decoration of the turnouts. More than $1000 was contributed for this purpose by citizens in the vicinity of the various engine houses.

Wearin' of the Green.
The Board of Public Works, in conformity with a recommendation by the City Electrician, yesterday, decided to ask the City Council to so that the city ordinance that electric companies shall paint all their poles on the public streets a uniform green color.

Grand Avenue Paving.
Another important paving project was given a forward move yesterday, when the Board of Public Works decided to recommend to the City Council immediate proceedings for the paving with asphalt of Grand avenue, from Pico street to Jefferson street. This is a distance of over twenty blocks.

More Illuminations.
A recommendation will be made to the City Council Monday by the Board of Public Works that proceedings be started for the installation of an ornamental lighting system on Pico street, from Main street to Vermont avenue. The board recommends that an assessment be made on the Pico-street frontage for the cost of the installation, necessary to pay for the first two years' lighting, and the property owners also pay the cost of the ornamental lamp posts.

THE FEDERAL COURTS.
MAY STOP ALL NAPLES SALES.
SUIT FILED AGAINST DREDGING COMPANIES THERE.

Allegation Made That Companies Are Unlawfully Using Patented Methods of Making Canals and Filling in Lands—Damages Claimed May Amount to Quarter of Million.

As a result of two suits filed in the United States Circuit Court yesterday by A. B. Bowers of San Francisco, all work at Naples, the beach property controlled by A. M. and A. C. Parsons, may be held up and the sale of lots shut down until the proposed canal is seriously interfered with temporarily at least. Bowers claims that he is the original inventor of a system of dredging canals, and that he has secured a patent for its use in waters in the State of Washington.

Testimony of the dredging, regarding the events connected with the rest of McKinley, December 15, when he drove out to the home of his nephew, who was being treated by the Williams, was to the effect that Reid had declared his nephew had shot him, and that he had been shot in the back. "I do it, William?" To which McKinley had answered: "I didn't shoot you, uncle."

Williams, the man who accompanied McKinley, and with whom the latter had spent the night of December 14, had been urging a claim to own-

Townsend, Lyon & Hackley appear as counsel for the plaintiff. One suit is against the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company, the Naples Company and A. M. and A. C. Parsons, to enjoin the use of the big dredger, Seattle, now engaged in digging canals at Naples. The other action is against the North American Dredging Company, the West Naples Company, the Great Naples Improvement Company, Robert C. Marsh & Co., and Strong & Dickinson, to enjoin the use of the hydraulic dredger now in use at West Naples. Bowers claims to be the original inventor of the hydraulic dredge, and holds a number of United States patents therefor. An explanation of the reason why the suits have been so long delayed, Bowers asserts that he has been absent in Mexico for a year past, and did not know until his return to San Francisco that his patented dredgers were being used at Naples or West Naples without permission. As soon as he ascertained the facts, he hurried to Los Angeles in company with his attorney, and filed the suits in question, declaring at the same time that he intends to vigorously prosecute the alleged infringers upon his patented rights, and to claim from them large damages. When asked as to the probable amount of damages he was entitled to be asserted that he would not say, but that in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. As the canals in question cannot be used until the suits are decided, it is probable that a bitter fight will be waged on both sides unless a compromise is reached, whereby the canal work may be allowed to continue. It was stated by Bowers' attorney that the dredger Seattle, which is used in digging the canals at Naples was built under Bowers' supervision at Seattle, in the State of Washington, and with its use in the State of California, coupled with an express provision that the dredge was not to be taken outside of the State of Washington. Notwithstanding this fact, however, it is claimed, the Atlantic Gulf and Pacific Company has brought this dredge to Naples, and with it a large number of canals, all of which Bowers claims to be in violation of his rights. If Bowers succeeds in obtaining an injunction, the dredge will have to cease work entirely in the State of California, and large damages will have to be paid. The situation at West Naples is the same as at Naples, except that the work is being done by a dredge owned by the North American Dredging Company.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.
BULLET FOUND OVER TEMPLE.
FACT THAT REID WAS SHOT IS PROVED BY OPERATION.

Aged Victim of William J. McKinley's Gun Submits to Surgeon's Knife and Result Shows That He Was Shot as He Had Testified to Means Much to Prosecution.

An operation was performed on aged William Reid yesterday, more than five months after the alleged shooting of Reid by his nephew, William J. McKinley, who was placed on trial yesterday morning in the Superior Court, charged with assault with intent to commit murder.

The operation, by Dr. Bonny and Garrett, took place in the Receiving Hospital yesterday afternoon, after the X-ray had disclosed the presence of a metal disc, fastened against the skull, above the left temple. A leaden pellet was removed, and the old man returned to the courtroom with his head swathed in bandages. Reid is past 40 years of age.

At the morning of the trial, after the jury had been secured, counsel for the defense of McKinley made every effort in cross-examination to throw doubt on the allegation that Reid had been shot. The operation, however, seemed to settle that question beyond cavil.

More than that has been shown, weakening the defense. Counsel for McKinley have shown a purpose of discrediting not only the assertion of William Reid, but also the testimony of him, but of showing the aged rancher to be weak and of feeble mind. His appearance in court after the leaden pellet had been removed from his head, alert and interested in the testimony of witnesses, surprised every one, and recalled the story of how he had split out two of the bullets alleged to have been fired into him the night of December 14, after they had struck through his face, tissue and bone, into his mouth.

Aside from the turban-like white bandage about his head, the old man made no sign that he had undergone an operation painful in the extreme. The disc of lead which was taken from his skull, high up on the side of his head, he supposed to be one of the two which were believed to have made the wounds in his neck. It had flattened, with rifle-like edge. It had sliced its way upward over the curve of the skull.

Police Surgeon Quint, on the witness stand yesterday forenoon, told of probing the wounds in Reid's face that had been brought into the Receiving Hospital, December 15, the day after the alleged shooting, and stated that he had found no bullets. He testified to the condition of the patient, which he considered hopeless at the time, chiefly because of the wounds in the neck. The old man had lost a great deal of blood, apparently.

Police Detective Walsh testified to going out to Reid's five-acre apple ranch at Avenue 7 and Jefferson street, and of the arrest of McKinley there the day after the alleged shooting. McKinley had given the wrong address when questioned.

Detective Rich testified to the search for McKinley, for the prisoner's belongings, and to finding a 22-caliber revolver and a .38-caliber pistol in McKinley's trunk. The prisoner already had declared that he never had owned a gun.

On the discovery of the gun, the witness stated, McKinley admitted that it was his, and said he had forgotten it. He said he had had the gun for two years, and had not seen it for a long time.

"I told him it had not left the factory two years ago," the witness stated, "as was shown by the high number on the barrel. He had traded the other pistol for this one six months ago."

Following up the pistol clue, Rich had discovered the storekeeper, who had sold it, according to his statement, in November, 1935, and to the man who had bought it, William J. McKinley. The storekeeper admitted that he had been in the store at that time, but he had bought only collar buttons there.

Testimony of the detectives, regarding the events connected with the rest of McKinley, December 15, when he drove out to the home of his nephew, who was being treated by the Williams, was to the effect that Reid had declared his nephew had shot him, and that he had been shot in the back. "I do it, William?" To which McKinley had answered: "I didn't shoot you, uncle."

Williams, the man who accompanied McKinley, and with whom the latter had spent the night of December 14, had been urging a claim to own-

ship of the ranch where the old man lived. It is said that he had loaned the old man $5000, taking a deed as security, and after the sudden rise in value of the property, he had not met the claim that the deed gave him title to the place. A suit brought by William Reid against C. B. Williams, to recover the deed, claiming that Williams has refused to accept payment of the debt, is pending in the Superior Court.

McKinley, previously to the alleged murder, was on his way to the ranch, and made trouble. Justice Pierce had warned him that he must keep away from the ranch when the matter was brought into his court.

The assault-to-murder trial will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning.

IMPERIAL "JUSTICE."
HOW DEFENDANT WAS CINCINNATI. Desert law, as dispensed by Justice H. N. Dyke of Imperial, Cal., was overruled by Judge B. N. Smith yesterday on habeas corpus proceedings brought to secure the release of Henry Holtzman from the County Jail. The man, it appears, had been tried, convicted, fined and sentenced to 100 days' imprisonment in San Diego county jail, only to be released by the Imperial, who had no knowledge of what was going on.

Holtzman, who has business interests in the Imperial, is a druggist of the Imperial, and his first trial, at which he was present, resulted in a disagreement of the jury. Released on bail, Holtzman came to Los Angeles on business, and in his absence was tried for trial again.

The day came and the defendant did not appear. The trial proceeded, and absent Holtzman was found guilty and sentenced by the Imperial justice. Then the Constable of the district went forth into the highways and byways in search of the missing druggist. They had not needed him for the trial, they had thought, but they did realize, it appears, that they felt his presence would be necessary in order to execute the sentence.

Authorities in neighboring counties were notified, and Holtzman was arrested in Los Angeles. The prisoner employed counsel to be his assistant, and the proceedings of the Imperial Justice's Court were copied and read to Judge Smith. The Superior Court judge, after hearing the case from yesterday morning to afternoon, that the District Attorney's office is assisting in the proceedings, and that the trial actually had proceeded in the absence of the defendant, he granted the writ and the prisoner was released.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.
BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.
FIGHT FOR CHILD. Arthur G. Nichols, who is separated, but not divorced, from Violet Nichols, sought to have a friend, James M. Low, appointed guardian of his child, Treva Everett Nichols. Mrs. Low bore the seven-months-old girl in her arms. The court, however, awarded custody of the child to the mother, Mrs. Low, on hearing the decision, quickly left the courtroom with the baby. The mother followed in swift anger and battle royal seemed imminent when the bailiff stepped between the angry woman and secured the child, which he turned over to Mrs. Nichols.

THREE YEARS FOR THEFT. A frank-faced young butcher boy from Oklahoma, Wallace Trodd, who has been working on Baldwin's ranch since last October, came before Judge Smith yesterday morning for sentence. He pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing 1200 pounds of alfalfa seed from his employer. He answered all questions promptly, and asked the mercy of the court. "This was my only one, and I did not do all of this," he said.

Deputy Dist. Atty. North stated to the judge that there had been a good deal of pilfering of stores at Baldwin's ranch, and Judge Smith said: "You've been lots of trouble to that old man, haven't you?" Sentence followed.

SLAPPED SISTER. Because her sister, who is a superior court judge, eastern convent, came out to take part in a movement to have Frederick Davidson removed from his position as guardian of Marie S. Bowman and her 3900 estate, Mrs. Ludek yesterday slapped the sister in the face. The judge was not on the bench. Before he was in the Napa divorce case, Capt. Fredericks yesterday stated that he agreed with the judge that a representative of the District Attorney's office should appear for the defendant in every default divorce case. It would make some of the attorneys angry, I know, but I think it ought to be done. "There is no law under which we can act, but we believe we can do it in the absence of a specific law, whenever requested to by the trial judge. When we have a man to spare from the regular work I shall take the matter up."

Wedding Stationery

OF ALL functions, the wedding demands a more painstaking attention to details than any other.

And of all the many details of the marriage none requires greater accuracy than the stationery—inventions, announcements, etc.

GRILL READY FOR VICTIMS.

Grand Jury to Investigate Santa Fe Men.

Without Warning Subpoenas Are Sent Out.

Charge Discrimination in Car Distribution.

And now it is the turn of the Santa Fe to get a grilling from a grand jury. Despite a future hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission, charges of discrimination against the Southern Pacific in its methods of furnishing fruit cars to citrus fruit packers, the Federal grand jury is going right ahead on its separate line of investigation and today will begin the examination of witnesses on charges of traffic discrimination on the part of the Santa Fe.

It is supposed that the sudden move on the part of the Federal authorities is bound to be disconcerting to the Santa Fe officials, as no intimation was given until scores of subpoenas were served yesterday upon fruit men, railroad officials and employees, commanding their presence in the Federal court this afternoon.

United States Dist. Atty. Oscar Lawler admitted the fact of the service of the subpoenas, but said he was not permitted to discuss what the documents meant. But from other sources was learned the whole story.

It is believed that the Santa Fe officials expected that any possible action against the railroad would be held in abeyance pending the hearing before the special commission of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Although this hearing is set for July 9, is on charges against the Southern Pacific, the investigation is supposed to be similar lines with that formerly threatened against the Santa Fe, and therefore would be a test of any other proceedings.

But a prominent independent fruit grower intimates that the Santa Fe is "nigger in the woodpile" will be disclosed during the investigation before the grand jury. The Federal authorities make complaint against the Santa Fe for using a method of acreage distribution of fruit cars against the system recently put into practice by the Southern Pacific fruit managers—that of supplying cars in proportion to the fruit actually waiting for shipment.

In the forthcoming hearing before Commissioner Frank G. Pinlayson, the California Fruit Growers' Exchange will claim that the Southern Pacific is violating the laws forbidding discrimination by supplying cars in proportion to the fruit actually on hand in the packing-houses instead of giving cars in proportion to the fruit acreage.

SIX AND HALF DOZEN. In other words, the California Fruit Growers' Exchange is endeavoring to make a case against one railroad for its method of car distribution, while the Federal authorities, by inference, say that is the proper method of supplying cars.

Was the Santa Fe back of the petition filed with the Federal grand jury? A question is supposedly one to be put, during the coming grand jury investigation, which will take weeks for hearing of the numerous witnesses.

Apparently the method in vogue by the Santa Fe, has been satisfactory to the exchange as the opposite method used by the Southern Pacific in supplying cars according to fruit ready to be shipped is the one complained of by the exchange.

It is claimed by Federal authorities that the Santa Fe is guilty of violating the laws under the Interstate Commerce Act. It is claimed by the Fruit Exchange that the Southern Pacific is violating the laws.

WOULD LIKE TO KNOW. Both methods are not right, it is urged, and the investigations of the grand jury is expected to develop the right policy to be pursued by all railroads doing business in this country.

The Fruit Exchange in its complaint to the Interstate Commerce Commission alleged that the Southern Pacific Railroad formerly distributed cars in proportion to the actual fruit in the orchards, but in April of the present year changed its method of distribution and supplied cars in proportion to the fruit actually in the packing-houses ready for shipment.

Counsel for the Southern Pacific stated before Commissioner Pinlayson that it stood ready to supply cars in whatever method the commerce commission should direct.

It is claimed that the Federal officers believe the method now employed by the Southern Pacific is the proper one under the law and that the Santa Fe is now violating the provisions of the law framed to protect all shippers equally.

MARK AN EPOCH. It is believed the present grand jury investigation will mark an epoch in the history of the shipment of the much questioned of the methods to be used in furnishing fruit cars will be finally settled by the Federal grand jury, as well as decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There are many independent fruit shippers in Southern California, who agree, it is said, that cars should be furnished according to the fruit ready to be shipped. This is also the opinion of the California Citrus Union, according to its counsel, who appeared in the case against the Southern Pacific.

"We wish cars distributed according to the citrus fruit we have on hand," said an independent shipper, "it seems just that cars should be ready for the perishable fruit and not be held for future shipments simply because an exchange controls a large acreage."

It is believed this is the attitude to be taken by United States Dist. Atty. Oscar Lawler, although he refused to state the position to be taken by him in advance of the grand jury investigation.

MINES AND MINING. WHY GOLDFIELD STOCKS FALL.

GEORGE WINGFIELD, GIVES VERSION OF DECLINE.

Manager of Merger Says Equipment Is Inadequate, and Changes of Everything Must Be Made Before Proper Work Can Be Done—Permanency Desired.

News of the condition of the Goldfield Consolidated Mining Company, the Goldfield Merger, has been received by J. H. Peters, a well-known broker of this city, from George Wingfield, one of the most prominent figures in Goldfield. Mr. Peters supplies the following information.

The great drop in the price of Goldfield Consolidated stock from $15.00 to $5.00 bid can be more easily understood when the following points are taken into consideration.

Some people have been saying that the reason for the drop in the stock is the shipping ore in large quantities to the smelters, and have not been since the lessees surrendered the properties to them. This is all a mistake. They might go ahead and ship ore at this time just as the lessees did before their leases expired, bring it to the surface with a mad rush and making spectacular runs on special express trains in order to deliver it safely. But that is not their idea of economics in mining. It was all very well and good for the lessees who had only a short time in which to get out their ore, but Wingfield and his associates have built a company which they believe will endure for years to come, and all of their operations must be directed with a view to permanent protection of the interests of those whose money is represented in their capital stock.

If they were so inclined, they could ship ore at a cost for transportation and treatment of $50.00 per ton. The shipping, and the Lake smelting charges eat up too much of the profit, and they prefer to go a bit slowly until things are different. Given their own mills at Goldfield, they can mine and smelt the ore at the cost of $7.00 per ton, and $2.00 for the mining and $5.00 for the treatment.

There is not a hoist on merger ground at the present time of more than 20-horse power, and the whole equipment is insufficient for their plans. It is utterly inadequate for deep mining, and will not enable them to take out more ore than lies in the shafts and cross-cuts near the present level.

This is a condition which must be corrected before they can begin to get the production out of the Consolidated properties that they are capable of. Even if they had an adequate equipment for mining and milling, it is doubtful if they could operate it successfully at this time, for the electric power which comes over the line from Bishop, Cal., is not sufficient to furnish energy for the heavy machinery in a proper equipment for these mines, and for a mill of the size they will require. This condition will be remedied by the end of the year, however, but they will not have sufficient electrical energy before that time.

For the other conditions which have forced them to adopt for the Consolidated properties a policy of semi-idleness, they have the plans all made for their correction.

On the whole, Mr. Peters says on Mr. Wingfield's authority, for investors who are not nervously anxious for quick action, the Goldfield Consolidated mines will fulfill all their expectations.

Born on Lucky Friday. Is Friday unlucky? Gladstone, Beaconsfield, Washington, Bismarck, Fahrenreit and Spurgeon were born on Friday. Henry VIII gave Calicut his commission which led to the discovery of North America, Columbus actually discovered the continent and the Grim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock on Friday. Once more: The first newspaper and the first newspaper printed by steam power (the London Times) appeared both on a Friday, while the stamp act was repealed in England the same day of the week. With Charles Dickens Friday was an especial favorite.—Chicago News.

CERTAIN FACTS. "An old man," replied the United States District Attorney, in answer to a question, "is that the grand jury is to consider alleged discrimination on the part of the Santa Fe Railroad. I cannot tell you what we shall endeavor to prove or what stand will be taken by us. I will simply say this investigation is entirely separate from the future hearing before the commission for the Interstate Commerce Commission. It simply rests with us to lay certain alleged facts before the members of the grand jury. What action will be taken of course I have no right to forecast."

All fruit men in Southern California will watch the outcome of the investigation with great interest, as it is expected to solve in a measure the car shortage of which growers and shippers complained the past season.

Prospective purchaser: I like the looks of this automobile, but suppose I should run over somebody and—Salesman: The springs are so easy, sir, you'd scarcely be jarred at all.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Are You Looking for a Safe Investment?

That Will Pay Large Dividends? We Have It. We Have United States Patent Protection and No Competition.

The Luitwieler Pumping Engine is a mechanical device converting rotary motion into straight line movement having constant speed. This produces a pulseless water discharge from a pump to which it is attached, unlike other reciprocating pumps in which the water starts and stops at each pump stroke.

The ordinary pump, as now made by pump builders, having an efficiency of from 25 per cent. to 30 per cent., may be attached to the Luitwieler Pumping Engine and will then show a mechanical efficiency of 80 per cent., while not using any more power to produce the greater result.

The Luitwieler System of Pumping saves from 10 per cent. to 80 per cent. over all other pumping methods. Its superiority is recognized by the leading engineers of the world. This being an established fact, Luitwieler Pumping Engines are selling for 75 per cent. to 100 per cent. better prices than other types command, and are now shipped throughout the United States and to many foreign countries.

The Demand Is World Wide

We have applications for our product from England, Scotland, Germany, Russia, Japan, South Africa, Philippine Islands, Australia, Spain, Portugal, Mexico, Cuba, Porto Rico, Nicaragua, Venezuela, British Columbia, Brazil, Argentina, and Peru.

To meet the necessity we now offer a limited portion of our treasury stock at Fifty Cents on the Dollar, fully paid and non-assessable. This money will be used to provide stocks and machinery having capacity to work from 100 to 200 men. The earning capacity of our stock will admit of large dividends.

We want good mechanics, salesmen, office men, and heads of departments who will become interested and permanently identified with the management, and who will participate in the profits.

Our business comes from water, mining, and railroad companies and other corporations who employ competent engineers to select the BEST. We are selling our machinery to replace the wasteful types, and the saving we effect in fuel or power is enough to pay the first cost of our machinery in from eight months to a year. Among our patrons are the Southern Pacific Co., the Santa Fe Ry. Co., the Salt Lake Co., the Chihuahua Pacific Ry., the Pacific Electric, and the Los Angeles Pacific Co. and others.

All windmill manufacturers want to adopt the Luitwieler System, as it increases the efficiency of a mill from 25 per cent. to 80 per cent., or gives three times the water with the same power.

A large water company in the East has five of our pumping engines. They write: "We reduced our fuel bill from $6000 to $1800 year after installing three Luitwieler Pumping Engines," displacing crank pumps.

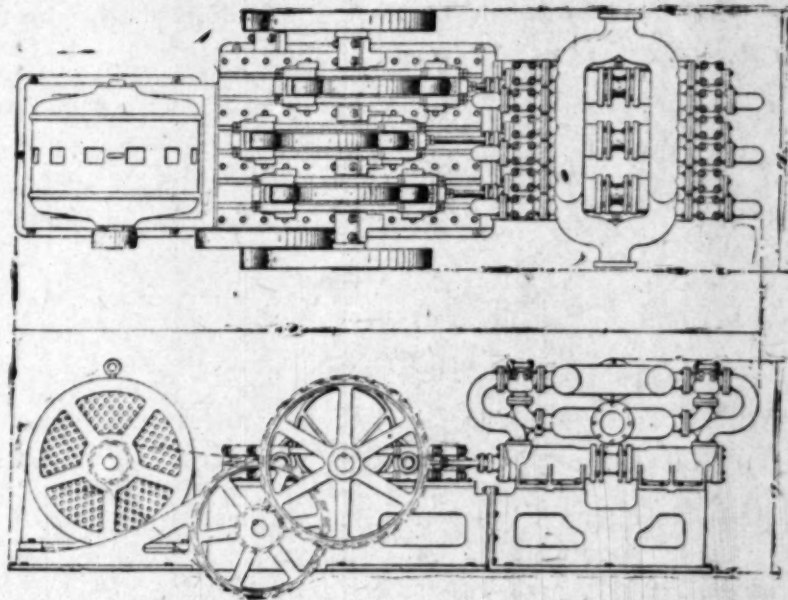

Another company has five Luitwieler Electric Pumping Engines, and reduced their operating expense 60-70 per cent. with them, displacing direct-acting steam pumps.

A big Texas concern reduced the cost of water on a deep lift with one large Luitwieler Pumping Engine from 17c per 1000 gallons to 4 1/2c per 1000 gallons, including maintenance, displacing the air lift. These letters are on file in our office.

There are now in use in the United States about $100,000,000 worth of wasteful pumps for us to replace. The demand is UNLIMITED.

We can save the owners on an average over 50 per cent. of their fuel or power cost. The business is ours for the taking.

Our 75 H.P. Triple Electric Pumping Engine for mines, waterworks, etc. We also build steam, gas, and belt driven pumping engines in different sizes.

Our pumping engine is no experiment, but has proven a wonderful success. We refer to the following prominent engineers:

Edward S. Cobb, C. E., Pacific Electric Bldg., Los Angeles.
C. H. Ellison, chief engineer Los Angeles Pacific Ry., Los Angeles.
Fred T. Parris, engineer, A. T. & S. P. Ry., San Bernardino, Cal.

And to hundreds of other engineers, etc., users of Luitwieler Pumping Engines.

DUNKERS GRAPPLE NO BIG QUESTIONS.

Conference Adjourns Without Definite Action on Suggested Changes in Church Polity—Hats and Neckties Not Fixed as Test of Fellowship.

THE GENERAL conference of the Dunkers finished its business and came to final adjournment at 5 o'clock last evening, with expressions of pleasure at the adjournment in this city. The Los Angeles conference will go down in the history of the Dunker Church as the one having the largest attendance of official delegates in recent years, also as one that failed to grapple with the great questions that came to it as the result of a growing sentiment among the progressive element of the church to come into closer touch with the five spirit of the century.

Every question that would have brought about any change in the polity of the church was put off for another year, or returned to the district asking it without any answer whatever. This latter plan was so prominent in the reports of the Standing Committee yesterday that an elder suggested that "this is a regular recurring board." Failure of action in a number of cases, however, left the progressive element to continue slight innovations without interruption. For instance, there is no doubt that athletics will continue in the Brethren schools; pupils will be accepted who do not conform to Dunker customs in the matter of dress, and those who wish to do so will continue to wear hats and neckties that are not considered "fashionable."

The report of one of the committees at the opening of the conference, that there has been practically no growth in the membership, though holding its own, has directed attention to the rarity of young men, not only among the official delegates but in the general crowd, but there was a fair sprinkling of young women.

The Standing Committee is very largely composed of old men, and at least three-fourths of the delegates have passed the three-score-and-ten mark. Indicating that young people are not numerous in the congregations. With the passing of the present generation, there will be radical changes that will permit a closer conformity to the customs of people in general, or the church will degenerate. It is no doubt will go forward in the sunlight of the century.

HATS AND NECKTIES.
The Standing Committee gave evidence of the possession of this belief when it made its recommendation on the question of hats and neckties, though the members of the committee, probably without exception, follow the most rigid conformity to their old-time rule of unassessable hats and no tie whatever.

A Texas district asked that the word "fashionable" be stricken out, or that the section entire be repealed, or at least, they wished to know if the tie and hat question was to be made a test of fellowship. The Standing Committee "advised" the brethren not to wear neckties or fashionable hats, but refused to strike out the objectionable word, and clearly stated that they were not willing to make it a test of fellowship.

The debate was pending at adjournment on Wednesday night, and was taken up again yesterday morning, when the report of the committee was overwhelmingly defeated, but no effort was made to go any farther, and the rule continues in force, to wear "no fashionable hats and neckties."

I. J. Rosenberry, at the opening of the debate yesterday morning, said: "Perhaps there may be members of the clergy and reporters who think it strange that we discuss the wearing of neckties, but it is the little things that creep in and gradually eat away the greater principles. We consider it essential to watch the smaller encroachments and thus maintain sound government."

S. Z. Sharp, A. J. Nicky and others spoke against the report of the committee, and H. P. Albright, J. J. Yoder, H. C. Early and others in favor of it. From Kansas a request came that prices of Sunday-school supplies be reduced for those of other publishing houses, and G. W. Lentz and Granville Nevins spoke in favor of it, expressing dissatisfaction with the reference of the matter to the Missionary and Tract Committee, but it was referred.

Another Kansas church wanted the conference to say what shall be the out of the brethren's coat, but the Standing Committee recommended returning the query unanswered, and it was done. P. S. Myers, D. Hoy and others spoke on the question, favoring the collar on the coat, as now generally worn by the Dunkers.

By, and all such matters as temperance, missions, divorce, and many others, were left to the entire body, and it is but a few years since they incorporated the Mission Committee into their church polity. There was strenuous opposition yesterday to adding another church board, though they are the strongest possible temperance advocates.

I. J. Rosenberry declared that the Dunker church had led in all these things for a hundred years, and he wanted to know it out at the start. "I don't see what we want with it, brethren. I don't see what we want to it, and if you insist on it, I shall insist on adding one more—namely, an anti-secret committee. It is hard to convince our young people that these Christless secret organizations are a bad thing."

Strong opposition seemed to be developing to the granting of the request, but a strong argument from W. Stahler, from the Central Pennsylvania district, changed the current and the request went through without an opposing voice.

This was the last matter of importance, and the moderator stated that the business was all disposed of. Letters of greeting were read from Switzerland, Sweden and Denmark, which committee had sent no representatives, and replies authorized by the conference were also read and adopted. In these the foreign congregations were told that Elders H. C. Early and C. B. Royer would visit them during the year.

The usual resolutions of thanks to all who had in any way contributed to the comfort and pleasure of the visitors were adopted, and the body adjourned with devotional exercises.

MANY BUY HOMES.
Dunker Delegates Start for Home Well Pleased With Los Angeles—Large Body in Years.

On every hand yesterday the members of the Dunker conference were expressing their pleasure over their stay in this city, and so well pleased are they that a number will remain permanently with us. At least eight have determined to purchase land at Loma, between Redondo and San Pedro, and many will buy acreage at other places around the city.

The body was this year the largest, and all such matters as temperance, missions, divorce, and many others, were left to the entire body, and it is but a few years since they incorporated the Mission Committee into their church polity. There was strenuous opposition yesterday to adding another church board, though they are the strongest possible temperance advocates.

I. J. Rosenberry declared that the Dunker church had led in all these things for a hundred years, and he wanted to know it out at the start. "I don't see what we want with it, brethren. I don't see what we want to it, and if you insist on it, I shall insist on adding one more—namely, an anti-secret committee. It is hard to convince our young people that these Christless secret organizations are a bad thing."

Strong opposition seemed to be developing to the granting of the request, but a strong argument from W. Stahler, from the Central Pennsylvania district, changed the current and the request went through without an opposing voice.

This was the last matter of importance, and the moderator stated that the business was all disposed of. Letters of greeting were read from Switzerland, Sweden and Denmark, which committee had sent no representatives, and replies authorized by the conference were also read and adopted. In these the foreign congregations were told that Elders H. C. Early and C. B. Royer would visit them during the year.

The usual resolutions of thanks to all who had in any way contributed to the comfort and pleasure of the visitors were adopted, and the body adjourned with devotional exercises.

MANY BUY HOMES.
Dunker Delegates Start for Home Well Pleased With Los Angeles—Large Body in Years.

On every hand yesterday the members of the Dunker conference were expressing their pleasure over their stay in this city, and so well pleased are they that a number will remain permanently with us. At least eight have determined to purchase land at Loma, between Redondo and San Pedro, and many will buy acreage at other places around the city.

The body was this year the largest, and all such matters as temperance, missions, divorce, and many others, were left to the entire body, and it is but a few years since they incorporated the Mission Committee into their church polity. There was strenuous opposition yesterday to adding another church board, though they are the strongest possible temperance advocates.

TALONS AND TAIL

Over a Thousand Eagles Seen Their Big Mail on Eagle Street.

Last night it was open to the eagles at their big mail on Eagle Street, and over a thousand of the feathered tribe were seen participating in the delivery of mail. The eagles were of the most varied colors, and were seen in great numbers.

Hon. Theodore A. Bell, president of the order, was the principal speaker, and delivered an address on the history of the order, its beginning at Seattle in 1892, and its growth since that time.

George Renwick, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, introduced Theodore Bell. Mayor Harper was another guest of the evening and made a speech in which he congratulated the order on its anniversary.

Lunch and liquid refreshments were lavishly dispensed by a corps of waiters, and during the evening there were songs, jokes and other amusements.

There was "something of a time" minute until adjournment at 11 a.m.

STRUCK BY CAR.
Joseph J. Murphy, residing at 1819 Van Ness avenue, was seriously injured by a car on Eagle Street last night.

Santa Monica electric car, No. 10, struck Murphy as he crossed the street. He sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and serious bruising.

GOLCONDA CHILE

Copper, Nitrate, Chief Resources and Quins Nitric Acid's

BY FRANK ANTONIO. I write I am sitting on the upper deck of the steamship "Loma," in the harbor of Valparaiso, Chile, and looking down into the bay. Some of the dullest, dreariest, and most monotonous of the world, high enough to be seen, but not a tree or a blade of grass, or even a cactus plant, as far as the eye can reach. The bay is a vast, flat, and desolate expanse of water, with a few small islands in the distance.

For hundreds of miles on either side of the bay, the land is a vast, flat, and desolate expanse of water, with a few small islands in the distance. The bay is a vast, flat, and desolate expanse of water, with a few small islands in the distance.

The Druggist Law

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The pharmacy law in the main is to protect the public, by examining pharmacists as to their qualifications, etc. In compounding prescriptions and dispensing poisons, and if found capable by the examining board are registered.

The present board, says E. J. Moloney, are registered under the old law without examination and not any of them could pass such an examination as are given applicants and few of them are graduate pharmacists.

As a pharmaceutical graduate and working druggist, I am quite well posted in regards to some of the proceedings of the present State board.

I am told that a certain member of the board posted a few of the big druggists to be on the qui vive for "poison buying," but those posted were, of course, those big enough to fight back.

The board knows that all of the down-town druggists sell poisons, such as morphine, cocaine, laudanum, etc., without registering the same and through unregistered clerks.

As a clerk, I have sold morphine supply by the ounce and laudanum by the pound in two of the largest drug stores on Spring street, between Second and Fourth streets, and they sell it just the same today.

Mr. Whilden was told where to buy and where not to buy.

Prior to Mr. Orr's appointment on the board, when connected with the Off Drug Company (he is still connected therewith), he employed three unregistered men (I can name them if he would like me to).

O. A. Baker, member of the board from Fresno, employed a clerk for years who was manager of the store (Baker & Colson), and who compounded all of the prescriptions and he was unregistered. He was certainly a careful man, but not a competent pharmacist (he is registered now).

Another man in Fresno who had been a miner in Nevada was registered as having been in the drug business 20 years. This same man managed a drug store in Clovis, Cal., but the board did not know it. I would swear that neither of these men could make up a list of all of the drugs in the city and will as long as funds have the money with them to purchase it.

The board's action is right in this respect, but the big fellows are as guilty as are the smaller ones.

Truth is, pharmacy is no longer an honest profession, but a graft and substitution. It is the substitution which needs the board's services, for not one in twenty druggists who do not substitute and adulterate and the board knows it only too well.

The dope funds can and will get all of the dope they want right on Spring street, and so can the secretary, Chas. E. Whilden. I can purchase for him a pound of morphine between First and Fourth streets on Spring street any time, and it will not be audited either.

The board wants some notoriety and is going to have it at the cost of a final test of the constitutionality of the pharmacy law and a repeal of some of its clauses, besides may have to state how twenty-six certain men of known incompetence in the State became registered.

If Mr. Whilden will go along with me I will purchase dope from some of my friends or I will wager $50 that I can get dope in the big stores (pick them at random myself) in company with any one whom he may select. I don't like the sale of poisons to any one save on physician's prescriptions, but I do not believe in making "fish of one and flesh of another."

Yours truly,
CHAS. L. CURTIS, Ph.G.
Garvanza.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I had the pleasure of a conversation last evening with a man whose talk was worth listening to, and all talk does not carry this value you know. He is a medicine expert in our government service and for twenty years past his duties have carried him all over the civilized world.

One matter which struck me with force was his attitude toward our Owens River water project, especially a phase of the discussion which I, at least, had not thought of before. He said: "It seems to me the curse of this city, and I don't think 'curse' is too strong a word, is dust. The air seems continually full of a fine, almost impalpable dust, which in many ways constitutes the principal drawback to this otherwise charming city. This dust covers everything outdoors and in, and long before the middle of your long, dry season, even the trees, shrubs and flowers are in pitiable condition. Clothes are a sight and a shoe-shine lasts but an hour or so. These conditions, however, are bearable, if unpleasant, but the serious effect of this dust upon the throats of your people, and especially of tourists and visitors, makes imperative the necessity for abolishing or ameliorating the nuisance."

"The remedy is simple, practical, effective and readily obtained. Water—during sprinkling twice each day in the busy streets and once each day in the others—all that you need to transform your dusty city into a clean, healthy and altogether delightful place."

"Do you wonder that I so strongly believe in the speedy completion of your Kern River project, even should it cost fifty millions?"

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The ultimatum in this morning's paper is refreshing. The striking, rioting, anarchism in the struggling city of the West is disgusting to pure minds. When a laborer ceases his work for me he takes his place beside every other laborer; has the same rights—no more, no less. Any other laborer has an equal right to insist on being hired as he. When a person insists on forcing me to buy from him any article he has to sell, this person is equal to the one who forces me to buy his labor.

Think of every tradesman forcing others to buy when they do not wish to buy.

Great bodies of laborers have no right that a single laborer has not. A single laborer that forces you to hire him, by plot, boycott, conspiracy, mob or threat, is not a good citizen; and every court or good citizen, ought to frown him down. Your interests are not safe, if you hire him—or those who sympathize with him. If a man who works for me breaks and ceases to labor, let him get out, and give me the rights of every other. Then will the running race be healed and anarchy hide its ugly head.

R. HURLBURT.

GLOVES OF WHALESKIN.

An Attempt to Be Made to Find a Profitable Use for a Wasted Product.

[London Express:] Newfoundland whalers, seized with a spirit of enterprising economy, are reported to be attempting to place whale hide on the market for the manufacture of whale leather.

It is not surprising that such an attempt should be made. It must be the spirit of any whaler of well-balanced mind to see, after all the hard-ship and danger of his calling, an enormous and altogether disproportionate bulk of his quarry cast away.

From a large right whale of forty-five to fifty feet in length, about 250 barrels of oil and one and three-quarter tons of baleen, or whalebone, may be obtained. The remainder of the gigantic carcass, which may be as much as fifty tons, and which is made into boots and shoes, would well stock a West End boot shop.

It is also hoped that the intestines of the whale will be made remunerative. This product is described as very thin and tough and suitable for glove manufacturers.

The use of whale for glove making, a Leicester Square firm gave their opinion that the only satisfactory skin yet found for fine gloves is goatskin.

"It is not unlikely, however," they said, "that while intestine could be made into good motor and driving gloves, the 'field' against all other skins."

"At various times many skins have been tried, such as the skins of crocodiles, cats, pigs, calves, lambs and even rats. But practically all the skins mentioned have been found treacherous. Glove skins must not only be pliable, but also perfectly tough and firm, since they have to be sewn up tight at the edge. If while intestine be found to possess these three qualities, no doubt there would quickly be a market for whale gloves."

NEW MARRIAGE VOW.

An Iowa Judge Makes All Couples He Marries Take a Divorce Obligation.

Judge Zell Roe of Des Moines has sprung a sensation with a divorce proof ceremony which is proving very popular to those tender lovers who cannot see through the early wedding bliss to the clouds beyond. Judge Roe has added these sentences to his ceremony:

"Do you, Mary, solemnly agree that you will never bring an action for divorce against John except for a statutory offense?"

There has not yet been a single answer in the negative to this question either from the blushing bride or the backward bridegroom.

"It may help to hold them together," said the judge, discussing his new ceremony. "Another thing I do, and that is to agree that if a divorce suit is brought while I am living I will return the fee given me for the marriage, half on each principal. I will then get down on my knees and ask God to forgive me for ever tying the knot in the first place."

That Judge Roe has set people to thinking on the divorce question is shown by the fact that one man put up $100 cash with the court as a guarantee that he would never ask for a divorce as long as he lived on any charge. This money is to be returned in ten years if the couple are still married; if not, it is to be given by the court to worthy poor.—[Minneapolis Journal.]

Price Up—Cash Down.

The following story is accredited to Miss Phyllis Franklin, who, in private life, is Mrs. Harry Davenport:

"My husband and I went into a Broadway umbrella store a few days ago," says Miss Franklin. "A sign reading, 'Umbrellas, $1 up,' was displayed in the window."

"How much down?" asked Mr. Davenport.

"All cash down," answered the salesman innocently. "This is not a credit house."

"But I mean how much do I have to put up for an umbrella put down?" asked Mr. Davenport.

"The salesman looked a bit perplexed. 'We have them for $1 up,' he said."

"I know," replied Mr. Davenport, "but I don't want to buy one up; I want to buy one down. I can put it up myself."

"Oh," said the salesman, smiling gently, "you are speaking of the umbrella while I am speaking of the price."
